TWENTY-SIXTH YEAR

READY FOR THE CARNIVAL

The Work of Decorating Was Pushed with Great Vigor Yesterday.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Line of March Published for the First Time.

The Official Programme as Corrected Up to Date—Society People Will Take a Hand in the Revels—Complete List of All Committees—At the Tabernacle, the Theatre and the Beach Resorts—Many New Features.

There was unprecedented activity in carnival circles yesterday. The work of decorating was commenced with the rising of the sun and was prosecuted vigorously throughout the day. During the afternoon, the weather looked threatening and a very slight shower occurred. It soon passed off, and the fears of the decorators were relieved.

It is too early yet to give anything like a detailed report of the decorations, as numerous teams have been completed, and several firms are holding off as long as possible, so that their displays may be fresh when the carnival opens.

The carnival edition of the Argus was issued during the day, and met with a heavy sale. It is a very handsome issue, and reflects great credit upon Mr. Bloom.

Up to date, the executive committee and the grand marshal have strenuously opposed the idea of making public the route laid out for the line of march of the carnival. It was asserted that mercenary individuals would take advantage of such publication and sell observation space along the route to the interference of the prearranged plans of the committee. As the public is clamorous for this information, however, it is here presented:

FORMATION OF DIVISIONS.
The first division of the procession will form on South Temple street, with the front resting on Main, prepared to march south via Main at the signal. The five other divisions will form on the five streets intersecting Main immediately south of South Temple, ready to fall in, each in its turn, when the leading division has passed.

The route will be as follows: From Main, south to Fourth street, thence to State, through the tribunes and past the grand and reviewing stands, thence to Fifth street, thence to First street, thence to the city and county building, thence to State via Fourth, north on State to Second street, thence to West Temple, where the procession will disband.

The queen, assisted by her maids of honor, young lady representatives from all the counties of the state, and Judge Colborn, the prime minister, will review the parade from her elaborately festooned and robe-bedecked throne on State street. The great canopy which is to shield her highness from the rays of the July sun, with its ten thousand tints and its big spread of silk and bunting, has just been completed by Master of Construction F. W. Pollard.

The Chinese feature of the procession is now an established thing. On Sunday Salt Lake's Chinese contingent, one hundred and fifty strong, were called into solemn convocation by Ah Say, the leading spirit in mongolian society in the international city. He informed his countrymen, in the dictatorial fashion in vogue among the orientals, that something had to be done to give the flowery kingdom a proper representation at the carnival. He suggested a dragon parade and his suggestion went. The idea was adopted at once and the big Chinese dragon, now reposing in peace and quiet at the Rock Springs hotel, will be brought forth to do carnival duty.

Be it known that a Chinese dragon is not to be fooled with in a rough-and-tumble sort of way. He must be handled with gloves and gingerly. Behind the embodiment of all wealth, he needs first to be appeased. The average Chinese dragon can stand more apposing to the square inch than Sunday Salt Lake's Chinese contingent, one hundred and fifty strong, were called into solemn convocation by Ah Say, the leading spirit in mongolian society in the international city. Demands an immediate reply; another inquires whether the "shell game" will be allowed to go during the carnival; another wants McGarvie's ideas on a balloon ascension, the aeronaut proposing to go up in a gas balloon and make a landing on the roof of the temple; still another commands the director-general to stop the railroads from discriminating between passengers and the carnival, in fixing carnival passenger rates.

AT THE CONTINENTAL MARKET.
The Continental Market, where all the floats are being designed and arranged, is a veritable hive of industry. From this quarter may be expected many unique and beautiful surprises.

VETERAN FIREMEN.
A reporter, while looking up carnival items yesterday dropped in at the veteran firemen's hall to see how they were progressing with their float, which is nearing completion. Asking George Ottinger, president of the association, if he had any objection to a publication of the description of the float before the procession he replied: "No, sir; in my opinion every float should be mentioned and its intent or what it represented should be described the day before the procession in all the papers. These floats at least should be more or less symbolical of some grand era, virtue or attribute, and unless spectators are posted two thirds of them would be simply enigmas—characters to be guessed at; and instead of calling forth admiration and applause they would create confusion and disappointment. Right here is a case in point. We are going to mount the old fire bell on a platform. A majority of the lookers-on are sure to be a representation of the old 'liberty bell' of honored name and fame but this is not the intention of our symbol."

It is the fire bell that bounced out at the hours and in all kinds of weather. If we wish to represent the old 'liberty bell' we would have a 'goddess of liberty' with the farmer's plow, the merchant's desk, the smith's anvil, the mechanic's desk, rushing to arms for liberty and independence. No it is

and we will surround it with militia firemen with their hose, pipes and hydrants, and crown its canopy with Psyche (the soul) and Cupid (the heart) and our old fire bell will rest that out of pure love, with heart and soul, we responded to the clamorous peals rung time and again on the precious old bell.

"How well we may succeed in our representation is hard to tell. Pictures without words are hard to make clear, especially when the wheels, but the old boys are putting in their best looks to make a creditable showing."

ARIZONA CHARLEY.
A telegram received yesterday from Charlie Meadows, (Arizona Charley), stated that he had started from Hot Springs, Ark., to join Captain Adam Paul's Wild West show and cowboy tournament, which will exhibit daily during the carnival at the exposition grounds.

LIST OF COUNTY QUEENS.
Sarah Dowling, Sandy, Salt Lake county; Georgia Warburton, Tooele county; Clara Kinkaid, Rich county; Sarah Bowen, Logan, Cache county; Winnie Smith, Beaver, Beaver county; Annie Sorrenson, Nephi, Juab county; Pauline Bone, Kay, Kane county; Annie Stewart, Moab, Grand county; Amelia Hammond, Monticello, San Juan county; Florence Kimball, Scofield, Carbon county; Ida Wood, Cedar City, Iron county; Emma Hatch, Heber, Wasatch county; Octavia Cheney, Randolph, Rich county; Mrs. W. H. Olsen, Brigham City, Box Elder county; Angie Callister, Fillmore, Millard county.

SOCIETY PEOPLE INTERESTED.
Great preparations are being made among society people and others for what will be known as carnival night—this is, after sunset on the day of the Fourth.

In all carnival cities this concluding night always witnesses the climax of the festival. It is then that all rules are disregarded, all restrictions defied and a general, good-natured helter-skelter obtains. At the Velled Prophet convocation, in St. Louis, this season of hilarity is usually characterized by the interchange of presents and souvenirs of the occasion; at the New Orleans Mardi Gras the crowds bombard each other with flowers, grain, etc.; at the Los Angeles Fiesta roses, pinks and poppies are used as missiles to melt the pucker and make the riot merry generally.

So carefully has the secret been guarded that it is not at present known just what form the local pandemonium on Saturday night will take. That it will be fast and furious enough, however, to suit all lovers of fun is a foregone conclusion.

At the setting of the sun on Saturday evening there will appear upon the scene a whole new cast of characters. He will be accompanied by an army of masked soldiers and will immediately proceed to dethrone the queen of the carnival by the aid of his minions, things with a high hand. Of course her majesty will not be at all surprised or embarrassed at this attack from the enemy, for the whole thing will have been prearranged by the committee, and there will be thousands of her subjects present to bid her God speed in the same breath with which they wish her success for her brief reign.

Then things will be lively. The king will command that everybody within the realm bounded by the limits of the carnival should be present, and according to personal inclination. And it is needless to say, the subjects will obey the command to the letter. All will be made and there is no estimating the number of fun-making complications which are likely to arise.

AT THE THEATRE TONIGHT.
The benefit to be given at the Salt Lake theatre tonight for the benefit of the carnival is expected to be a grand success. Enough tickets were sold yesterday to insure a full house, and "standing room only" will be the order before the curtain rises on the first act.

The committee yesterday decided to request of the authorities of the Mormon temple that they would permit an American flag for decorating purposes. It is the desire of the committee to have the banner swing between the two highest spires of the temple, so that it will be visible from all parts of the city. This flag is 70 by 250 feet in size and will, if the committee are successful in securing it, be a long-to-be-remembered feature of the carnival.

Notice was received by the committee yesterday that 1,500 people will leave Butte, Mont., on the morning of the 1st. Four hundred and fifty people arrived in the city from the east yesterday and all the hotels have been telegraphed to hold accommodations for incoming visitors. The executive committee have at their rooms, 327 A block, a complete list of the available hotel and lodging house accommodations.

THE TABERNACLE.
Those in charge of the decoration of the interior of the tabernacle declare their intention of dressing the big auditorium up as it was never dressed up before. The work was commenced yesterday and is now fairly under way. Of course the musical feature of the carnival will be the tabernacle concert on Thursday night. Six hundred voices will sing patriotic songs and the great organ will make the circumambient air tremble with its deep-toned melody. Ten thousand tickets will be sold for this entertainment.

Director-General McGarvie is harassed by a thousand annoyances as the opening day approaches. Every mail floods him knee-deep in letters from all kinds and conditions of people. A publication of the communications which have been sent to Mr. McGarvie since the inauguration of the carnival would make interesting reading. One man in Denver wants to know what "bunting" is worth in Salt Lake, and him at noon tomorrow. The meetings will be open to the public. Senator Jones, of Arkansas, who will be a prominent figure in these meetings, commends the statement of Secretary Towles that the first work of the conference would be to confer with the subcommittee of the National Democratic committee as to the selection of a temporary chairman and as to contests if necessary. He said there was no apprehension that the national committee would not be disposed to deal fairly with the silver majority, but that it had been thought best in the interest of effectiveness and security to have an understanding.

said also that the question of a temporary chairman had not been canvassed and that he had no idea of who would be selected for that position. He also stated that he doubted whether, under the circumstances, the contest which had been threatened from Texas, Colorado, Nevada and Nebraska, would materialize, now that it was so evident that the silver men would have an unquestioned majority.

They may have thought originally that they could gain something in case the convention should be closed by preventing the representation of those states on the committee on credentials, but the silver majority is now so potent to all that they must have surrendered this idea if they ever entertained it.

Mr. Jones says that so far as he has heard from the silver delegates, they are confident of the main features of the platform. The idea is to give first place to the financial plank and to make the other questions, including the tariff, subservient to this.

NONE WHATEVER.
Asked what influence he expected Mr. Whitney's coming to Chicago would have upon the convention, Senator Jones replied: "None whatever. It will have no more effect than would a duck's back upon the minds as to what they want, and the delegates to the convention will be here to do their bidding and no amount of influence will change their purpose or turn the course of events."

SILVER MEN MEET TODAY

Great Gathering at the Sherman House Is Expected.

MANY MATTERS OF MOMENT

Locking After the Interests of the White Metal.

CHICAGO, June 23.—The leaders of the Democratic silver forces in the various states are beginning to gather preparatory to their meeting, which will be held in the Sherman house in this city tomorrow under the auspices of the bimetallic Democratic national committee.

The meeting is not to be of as general a character as has been supposed. It will be composed in a large measure, of representatives of the bimetallic committee which was organized in Washington last August, and there will also be present other leading silver Democrats, to whom invitations have been especially extended.

A PARTIAL LIST.
The following is a partial list of those expected:

Arkansas—John W. Tomlinson, Arkansas—Carroll Armstrong, California—Thomas J. Clunie, Colorado—W. S. Thomas, Florida—Frank G. Harris, Georgia—Patrick Walsh, Idaho—George W. B. Smith, Illinois—G. W. Pithan, Indiana—B. P. Shively, Iowa—S. B. Evans, Kansas—Daniel J. Overmyer, Kentucky—H. A. Somers, Massachusetts—Frank R. Foster, Michigan—Frank P. Hummer, Mississippi—Robert H. Mayfield, Tennessee—J. C. McCall, Texas—Horace Chilton, Utah—O. W. Winter, Virginia—United States Senator Peter J. Otter.

DAILY MEETINGS.
Commencing tomorrow meetings will be held daily until the beginning of the convention and possibly while the convention continues if there appears to be occasion for them.

The general purpose of the meetings is to exercise a supervisory care over the conduct of the silver cause in the Democratic convention. The conference was first decided upon two months ago when the silver men were in the city of St. Louis, and when they considered it would be desirable to have a meeting for the purpose of securing the protection of their interests, to keep an eye upon the proceedings of the national Democratic convention, and to consider important at that time that the silver people should have such a perfect understanding of the situation.

That there would be no doubtful moves in the convention or elsewhere. Now, they profess to feel so sure of their ground that they do not consider it would be desirable to have a meeting for the purpose of securing the protection of their interests, to keep an eye upon the proceedings of the national Democratic convention, and to consider important at that time that the silver people should have such a perfect understanding of the situation.

FRAND AND HYPOCRISY IN THE INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENT PHRASE IN THE ST. LOUIS PLATFORM HELD UP TO THE RIDICULE AND SCORN IT DESERVES—HOW THE REPUBLICAN PARTY HAS DOUBLED THE DEBTS SHOULDERS BY THE TOLLING MASSES—LET DISAPPROPRIATION COME!

OMAHA, June 23.—A special from Waterloo, Ia., says: Ex-Governor Boies today made public this letter, replying to a message from a New York paper concerning the Whitney declaration.

"Owing to my absence from home I did not receive yours by wire until this morning. Mr. Whitney is entirely right in his conclusion that there is no disposition on the part of those who will represent the silver sentiment of the south and west in the Chicago convention to further discuss the matter at issue with the men whose views are diametrically opposed to their own on the currency question."

ENTIRELY CORRECT.
"He is entirely correct in his conclusion that it is now too late to accomplish any practical result by a discussion of that character."

"Throughout the south and west that discussion has been extended and thorough, and the views expressed by Mr. Whitney have been put forward by many people who entertain them, and they have been carefully considered and weighed, and after all of this the judgment of an overwhelming majority of the party in these sections is evinced by the fact that the delegates have been chosen to represent the states in the Chicago convention."

KNOWN TRUTH.
"Not one of these men can now regard the known sentiment of the people who selected him without betraying dishonor and treachery, and not one of them, in my judgment, will ever do so."

"Mr. Whitney is entirely wrong in assuming that the free silver movement is a movement for the fundamental principles of Democracy, or that what he terms sound money Democrats are defending those principles in their endeavor to commit their party to gold monometallism."

"Until the Republican party met in St. Louis a few days since, there was never a line written in a national platform of either of the great parties that justified the claim that the one or the other of these parties was committed to that doctrine. Over and over again the Democratic party, in national convention assembled, has put itself on record in the clearest and most comprehensive language possible."

IN FAVOR OF BIMETALLISM.
In favor of the restoration of silver to its place in our financial system as standard money, and never for a moment in the congress of the United States has a majority or anything like a majority of the representatives of that party wavered in its devotion to the principle of national credit and redemption of our public pledges, and to the principle of an international agreement for the free coinage of silver is the fulfillment of its pledges so often made in this respect. To sincere for the United States an offer of this character is little to be desired, less than an unqualified violation of a sacred pledge by a great political organization. If this is all that Mr. Whitney and those who think with him can offer, it will be vastly better to offer nothing. When Mr. Whitney says the maintenance of our present gold standard is essential to the preservation of our national credit and redemption of our public pledges, he ignores a great truth of which he cannot be ignorant. He knows that there is not a single dollar of the government outstanding today that by its terms is payable in gold alone, and he knows that right upon the face of the great bulk of the treasury of the government it is written, in substance, that they are payable in coin of the United States of the standard weight of the products of labor. If to undo what law has done to add to the burdens of those tolling millions of this nation and double the fortunes of the products of labor is to disrupt the Democratic party,

BELIEVERS IN BIMETALLISM.

OUR PRESENT SILVER DOLLAR.
If the government elect to so pay them, it is since the most of those obligations were issued that silver has been demonetized, whereby, if they are to be paid in gold alone, their value has been doubled, and the burden of the great industrial classes of the country has been increased two fold. To talk about a violation of national honor, when no party in the nation has ever suggested a failure, in the least degree, to meet every obligation it has assumed according to the strict letter of the contract it made, has, to say the least, a strange sound to those who heard the universal cry of distress occasioned, as they believe, by doubling the purchasing power of money and cutting in twain the market price of the products of labor. If to undo what law has done to add to the burdens of those tolling millions of this nation and double the fortunes of the products of labor is to disrupt the Democratic party,

DISRUPTION MUST COME.
"The majority of the party will submit to no wrong such as the permanent establishment of a single gold standard would impose upon the great mass of the people of this section."

STEWART'S ESTATE.
Another Claimant to a Portion of It.
NEW YORK, June 23.—Another claimant to a share of the estate of the late A. T. Stewart appeared today in the person of Augusta Maria Stewart, who arrived from Paris. She is about 35 years old, says she was born in France, and that her mother was the only sister of A. T. Stewart. Yet with this allegation of relationship she declares herself a cousin of Stewart. She says she is called "Miss" instead of "Mrs." in deference to her age.

She does not speak English. She brought what purports to be documentary evidence as to her birth.

MADAGASCAR TREATY.
LONDON, June 23.—The under secretary of state for foreign affairs, Mr. George N. Curzon in the house of commons today, replying to Sir Charles Dilke, said he had not heard that the United States had given up its treaty with Madagascar, and he had no intention to believe that a communication on the subject was passing between the United States and France. Great Britain, he added, had not taken concerted action with the United States, as their positions were not identical.

When Mr. Whitney says the maintenance of our present gold standard is essential to the preservation of our national credit and redemption of our public pledges, he ignores a great truth of which he cannot be ignorant. He knows that there is not a single dollar of the government outstanding today that by its terms is payable in gold alone, and he knows that right upon the face of the great bulk of the treasury of the government it is written, in substance, that they are payable in coin of the United States of the standard weight of the products of labor. If to undo what law has done to add to the burdens of those tolling millions of this nation and double the fortunes of the products of labor is to disrupt the Democratic party,

DISRUPTION MUST COME.
"The majority of the party will submit to no wrong such as the permanent establishment of a single gold standard would impose upon the great mass of the people of this section."

STEWART'S ESTATE.
Another Claimant to a Portion of It.
NEW YORK, June 23.—Another claimant to a share of the estate of the late A. T. Stewart appeared today in the person of Augusta Maria Stewart, who arrived from Paris. She is about 35 years old, says she was born in France, and that her mother was the only sister of A. T. Stewart. Yet with this allegation of relationship she declares herself a cousin of Stewart. She says she is called "Miss" instead of "Mrs." in deference to her age.

She does not speak English. She brought what purports to be documentary evidence as to her birth.

MADAGASCAR TREATY.
LONDON, June 23.—The under secretary of state for foreign affairs, Mr. George N. Curzon in the house of commons today, replying to Sir Charles Dilke, said he had not heard that the United States had given up its treaty with Madagascar, and he had no intention to believe that a communication on the subject was passing between the United States and France. Great Britain, he added, had not taken concerted action with the United States, as their positions were not identical.
